The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 48, Tuesday, Sept. 8th, 3.50 p.m.
 Reports which passed the censors say that over 250,000 Russian troops have been diverted to the assistance of the allied movements in Belgium and France. The continued successes of the allies in France is driving the Germans back. It is reported that the British Admiralty has reported that all officers, retired or otherwise, have been called to the colors. The Pacific cable was cut yesterday just after a message had come over stating that the Australian cruiser, Australia, was in pursuit of the elusive German cruiser, Nurnburg. Russian advance in Austrian Galicia seems to be checked by the lack of supplies. The British Ministry of War reported that all supplies of ammunition and practically exhausted. The men driven beyond human endurance have lost spirit and the Russian masses at Berlin, is said by one military strategist, to indicate the breaking of the driving power of the enemy.

The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 49, Wednesday, Sept. 9th.
 A Petrograd despatch announced a smashing victory for the Russians at Rawa, which threw Northern Galicia into the hands of the Russians. The German forces were driven from Antwerp and are moving to an onward march to Berlin. A despatch from Basle, Switzerland, says that the kaiser watched the operation of a battery shelling Nancy. From Simla, India, it was announced that India was sending 70,000 troops to the aid of the allies. The passing of the despatch indicated that the French army is about to march against Romania. Romania will throw her 200,000 troops into the war against Germany. A despatch from Bordeaux says that it is believed Gen. Joffre has rightly interpreted German strategy and that he has made a master stroke which has placed the enemy in a most dangerous situation.

A Week of the War

In The Advertiser's Bulletins of Thursday, Sept. 3rd, Paris City was being menaced by the slowly drawing coils of the German octopus and preparations were made for a stubborn defense. The Russes had won Lemburg, in Austrian Galicia and were masters of the situation in Eastern Prussia. From Rome had come the announcement of the election of the new pope, upon Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa, formerly archbishop of Bologna, Italy, having fallen their choice. The first religious elects to be known as Benedict XV.

On Friday, the repulse of the Germans by the allies was reported and the beginning of the turning of the brighter side of the cloud of war. It was also reported that British vessels had landed 40,000 Russian troops at Ostend, having evaded the German fleet by bringing the Russian force from Archangel to the White Sea.

The Advertiser's Bulletins of Saturday, all contained assurances that the allies were successfully holding the German front at bay north and east of Paris. That city is reported well supplied for a long siege. The Princess Patrician regiment which has been making a holiday jaunt backwards and forwards over Canada were at Bassano and some mistake was evident on the part of the war authorities. Britain, France and Russia sign an agreement that none of the three will consider a peace without the unanimous consent of the three powers. War to the end against the Kaiser is the determination. Turkey has not declared herself yet but Japan is prepared to look after British interests in Western Asia in the event of Turkey coming to German assistance. A reported outbreak of cholera and typhus in Berlin which is assuming serious proportions was not confirmed.

Sunday evening, a bulletin to The Advertiser announced that from Paris it was reported that three of the forts at Maubeuge had fallen but that the British were successfully defending their position about the town. The British admiral announced, according to a London dispatch, that all aids to navigation on the east coast of Great Britain were liable to removal without notice. It was reported that the German shipping which had sunk fifteen fishing boats in the North Sea had taken the crews to Wilhelmshaven. About 200 lives were lost in the sinking of the passenger boat of the Wilson Line which was due to striking a floating mine. British casualties are placed at 18,000 to date. The German rounding movement away from Paris to the southeast is said by experts to be favorable to the allied armies. By the flooding of the dyed district east of Antwerp, the Germans have been driven that much farther from Antwerp, on the east.

The Advertiser's Monday bulletins told of the almost complete annihilation of an Austrian army corps by the Russians. The Germans made some progress in north-eastern Belgium approaching a few miles nearer to Antwerp. A despatch from Berlin gave as an estimate of the army facing the Allies 20,000,000 men. This large army has been split into four parts. The first reached La Fere on Saturday. The second has reached Chantilly and is continuing southwards. The third is at Rheims and the fourth at the Belgian frontier to the south. A movement was started in Toros to with a view of the organization for drilling instruction every month between 15 and 70 years for home defence. This civil guard movement it is said would enroll a half a million men in Canada.

A Call to Another War

Large audiences gathered on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Methodist church and at 7.30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church to hear Mrs. Ada Wallace Urush deliver a most excellent lecture on the Temperance War now being fought out in this land of ours. Mrs. Urush comes from Portland, Oregon, but is well known in the field of the fight in several different states. The W.C.T.U. may congratulate themselves on being able to secure the services of such a well-informed, entertaining speaker and our town may well feel honored to have had a visit from a soldier straight from the front, and a veteran of several fights.

Mrs. Urush did not attempt to tell of the misery caused by intemperance and its accompanying evils, the White Slave traffic. She told us rather the encouraging features of the struggle the temperance workers are making to banish both from the land.

Although Britain and her allies have met with reverses in the present European war, still we are confident that in the end, her arms will triumph for God backs up the right. So as one listened to Mrs. Urush, one felt convinced that the whisky-men, with all their millions are fighting a losing battle and perhaps sooner than we think right will triumph and much of the shame, sorrow, degradation and crime in the world will be banished with the last.

Mr. Georgeon of Gramma has not in the pages of a temperance journal but in an article by Lewis Edwin Thiele, in The Outlook, will finish all threshing in this district.

War Courage

To the Editor:

Many a man in Canada is now offering his services to the British Empire. Many others are unable for one reason or another to join them. What can we do at home? We can contribute of our means to the various patriotic funds. We can do our utmost to relieve distress at our doors and in our community. We can do our best to help our neighbors. Many are, on the other hand, apathetic, appeal very generally to every Christian family in Claresholm and surrounding district to see that at least every member is present at one of the Sunday services to intercede in our corporate capacity as a church for God's blessing upon the British Empire in the present time of trial. "England expects every man to do his duty."

A Receipt for Kisses

(From a Bow Valley Expert.)

To one piece of dark piazza, add a little moonlight. Take for granted two people. Press in strong ones a small soft hand. Sift lightly two ounces of attraction. One of romance and a large measure of folly. Stir in a floating ruffle and one or two whispers. Dissolve half a dozen glances in a well of silence. Dust in a small quantity of hesitation, one of resistance and two of yielding. Place the kiss on a flushed cheek or two lips. Flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool. This will succeed in any climate if directions are carefully followed.

Charles Gardner returned from Red Deer.

Please Send it Home

Some time ago, we allowed some one to borrow a book containing a mailing list which we had given some time and attention to compile. The borrower has failed to return the same and we should like to put to very great inconvenience to replace this list. We should be very obliged if this list should find its way back at an early date.

Getting Acquainted

There are some neighbors that you perhaps do not care to mix with, but occasionally a new one comes who is rather modest and difficult to become acquainted with, yet whom you instinctively believe to be good company.

One way to become acquainted is to ask if she is interested in the Summer Pastime and whether she is or makes little difference, for you will soon be telling her what you're doing and she'll be interested enough to talk upon that and other pleasant topics.

Splendid Combination Offers Next Week

Watch our next issue for the announcement of the greatest and best combination offers The Advertiser has ever made to the people of Claresholm, Stavely and Grandin and the district in which the readers of these two publications are. Next week we shall have a wide range of choices, one of the best, easily and readily affordable, especially for the ladies and for the home and at prices that will appeal to all. The Advertiser wants to increase its circle of readers and help to introduce useful and helpful literature into the homes, peculiarly adapted for home education. Read the announcement carefully next week.

Why Big Business is Favoring Prohibition

"We could have afforded to pay our employees a quarter of a million dollars more than their wages during the period that Billy Sunday was working among them," the vice president of one of the big steel companies of Pennsylvania is reported to have said. The man, a railway manufacturer, who repeated this, hastened to explain, "The thing that made these men efficient was cutting out the drink. Billy Sunday got them all on the water wagon. They became sober and stayed sober. They could run their machines with steady hands and true eyes. The men themselves realize what a difference it makes. They are strong for prohibition. If the people of Pittsburg and its vicinity would vote on the temperance question to-day, the saloons would be wiped out."

The above quotation is related not in the pages of a temperance journal but in an article by Lewis Edwin Thiele, in The Outlook, continued:

THE ADVERTISER'S SUMMER PASTIME

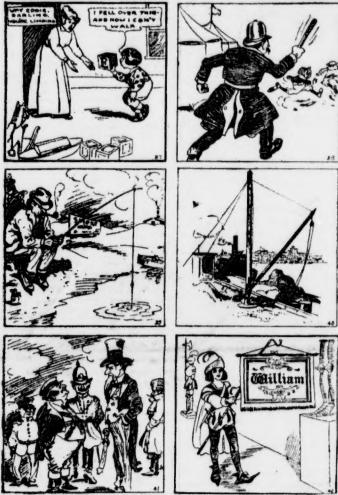

The Advertiser's Summer Pastime for Readers of Either the Claresholm or Stavely Papers

CHASE AWAY THE GLOOM. CALL TO YOUR ASSISTANCE YOUR POWERS OF RESISTANCE TURN OVER A BRIGHTER PAGE. And when we are asked to look at the boy's leg in the first picture and shut your eyes to everything else, Turn from it to the next Summer Pastime and the rest will go you. Turn back looking through the dismal things causes an apathetic condition of mind that paralyzes the vision and weakens one in the fight against adverse conditions. To make things easier we have selected no German or Russian jaw-breaking names. Nice common English, simple for everyone. All you need to be sure is the Summer Pastime Handbook.

$100.00 in prizes. First prize is fifty dollars. Nine other prizes.

Summer Pastime Rebus Pictures 31 to 36

The Advertiser's Summer Pastime is still winging with the war excitement and prizes are being held of The Advertiser's Handbook, many instances coming to our notice where young girls are finding the search through the columns of names in the Handbook side by side with the pictures and surprising their older competitors by the intimate name knowledge. This is the secret of their popularity. Read and ask popular for help—now popular and numerous are asking Ruth. One of the outside of our window, read from the copy of The Advertiser, the names of five of the pictures and was overheard to say, "I bet those names are correct, but phew! how do I know they will not ring in some names one never heard of before." Had he been carrying The Advertiser around with him, he would have been well pleased to know that these names appeared in the list or not. He passed up a golden opportunity because of faintheartedness and a too pessimistic opinion of the difficulty of the Pastime game. Everybody should be trying the game and we send more alert that only patience is required to pick out the correct names and secure some of the valuable prizes.

A Matter of Dollars and Cents

"The manufacturers are strong for prohibition, too. They never give much thought to the matter before, but this demonstration of Billy Sunday's has made us all strong for prohibition. We know now that most of our accidents are due to whisky. For years we have been trying to find a way to secure a high degree of efficiency among our men. Along comes that preacher and accomplishes more in a few weeks than we have ever been able to do."

"We know now that until booze is banished we can never have really efficient workmen. We've feels if we don't profit by what he has shown us. Take it from me, booze gets to go. We are not much interested in the moral side of the matter as such. It is purely a matter of dollars and cents. They say corporations have no souls. From this time forth corporations are going to show mighty little soul toward the man who drinks."

Rod and Gun for September

The list of contents which is sure to appeal to all sportsmen readers contains among other things the following stories and articles: A Reconnaissance From Coast to Coast; The Wildfowler in Canada from 1906 to 1914 by Bonnycauld Dale; Our Friends of the Watersways by H. Mortimer Batten; Duck Shooting by Twilight by R. J. Fraser; After Nova Scotian Woodcock with That Good Old Man; From Sharbot Lake to Moosehead Water; Tolling September Ducks; A Cry in the Wilderness; and the first of a series of articles on Things to know about a Shotgun. The regular departments are as usual well maintained. W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., are the publishers.

Owing to the holiday the pressure on our staff contributed to this week's delay. But more than anything else is the delay due to the hard times which has reduced the amount of job work demanded of this office and thus necessitated the closing of the staff.
